Background on AAIHB

AIHB, Inc. was established under Public Law 93-638 and guided by indigenous tribal leaders to encompass various initiatives developed to empower Native peoples to alleviate the health disparities through advocacy, and informed targeted action by and for the Southwest Native American pueblos, nations and tribes.

The AAIHB corporate culture is characterized by its ability to implement self-determination through its greatest resource; the collective wisdom of tribal leaders and members to sustain the legacy that it has built for over three decades.

From the company's start in 1980 to the present day, our tradition of community based grassroots health initiatives has driven continuous improvement in the way we operate and strive for growth. Our business meets the needs of over 60,000 Native people from diverse communities and backgrounds. Everyday our work touches the lives of our tribal members and our services are fundamental to improving our quality of life.

We are committed to the tribal communities in which we operate. Our focus then and now is to challenge the health disparities working proactively with our tribal members to find the best solutions and applications to assure 'sustainable' long term relationships.
